

IAN D'AGATA WINE REVIEW

BARBARESCO 2019

93

This is really pretty good: juicy, lemony red cherry and strawberry dominate on the finish. Shows no angularity and offers lots of simple easy-drinking charm.

Not the most complex or concentrated Barbaresco you'll ever drink, but it's hard not to like this.

Drinking window: 2026-2036.